Lodging during the COP21

How we found accommodation:
We used Airbnb.com to find accommodation for 10 people in Montreuil. We found it is the cheapest way to find an apartment for a larger group.

The Coalition Climat 21 gives these options:

SOLIDARITY LODGING IN PRIVATE HOMES

- For the nights of 4 - 9 December: From the 15th of September, the Coalition will have a platform for solidarity lodging in private homes on its website, enabling people seeking lodging and those offering it in their homes to meet. Prices and conditions will be set beforehand.
- For the nights of 10 - 12 December: For the last days of the mobilisation, Human Hotel is organising a solidarity lodging platform for these nights of high occupancy, and you can register as a guest (+ 1 travel companion max.) to get hosted in this period! The rate is 40 euros total for being hosted up to 3 nights. Human Hotel will match and connect you to a local Paris host based on mutual interests, preferences, and schedules. The deadline for Guest Registration is September 1, 2015. Register as guest on their webpage.

MODERATELY PRICED HOTELS AND YOUTH HOSTELS

We can send you a list of establishments in Paris whose prices are below 30 euros a night. To access this list, please address an email with the subject “LISTE ETABLISSEMENT PARIS COP21” to contact@coalitionclimat21.org

ACCUEIL BANLIEUES (SUBURBAN HOSTING)

Created out of the initiative to develop an alternative and solidarity tourism in the Seine Saint Denis region (93), the Accueil Banlieues association is organising lodging in the homes of activists in the 93 who will give you a taste of life in the neighbourhood, including the urban heritage and culture of these working class neighbourhoods. Places are limited! To get in contact with Accueil Banlieues, you can write to accueilbanlieues@dartybox.com
